

PAUL CLARK

A.A.A Treasurer

Paul originally joined the Airdrie branch of ASTRA (now dissolved) way back in 1979 as a schoolchild. After a few years, Paul moved on but returned to ASTRA during 1995 which became Airdrie Astronomical Association in 2009 when ASTRA dissolved in Airdrie. Paul's interests within A.A.A are many and include Astronomy, Astrogeology, Geology, Glaciation, Planetary Weather, ... the list is endless.

Paul is currently Treasurer to A.A.A and has been the honorary curator to Airdrie Public Observatory since 2003. A.A.A took on the running of the observatory during 2009.

Paul is heavily involved in the North Lanarkshire Inter School Rocketry Competition of which 2007 was its inaugural year. During 2008 and 2009, 4 schools competed and it is hoped to increase this in Future with a secondary school competition planned in addition in 2010. The competition is sponsored by Airdrie and District Round Table.

Paul also holds the post of A.A.A webmaster.

Paul meets Fred Haise (Apollo 13 Atronaut)

paul@airdrieobservatory.com